BROAD SOIL LEGEND

As shown on the front cover, the soils in Will county fall into 14 broad associations. The main characteristics of each association are summarized in the table at the bottom of this page and are described more completely on the following pages.

Most variations in Will county soils are related to differences in the parent materials from which the soils were derived, to differences in natural drainage, and to differences in the kind of vegetation which grew during soil development.

The most important soil parent materials are glacial outwash and till. They vary widely in texture from coarse gravelly material to fine-textured silty clay.

Differences in natural drainage are associated with the differences in parent material. Soils that developed over coarse-textured material are inclined to be better drained than those that developed over fine-textured material. This natural tendency may, however, be altered by the topography. For example, sloping land is inclined to drain fast, while depressional areas are usually poorly drained.

The kind of native vegetation influenced the color of the surface and other soil properties. Soils that developed mostly under grass have thick, dark-colored surface horizons. A forest cover resulted in light-colored soils. Where there was a mixture of both grass and trees the soils have a medium-colored surface, 5 or 6 inches thick, and a light-colored subsurface.

Table 1.—Classification of Soil Associations According to Color of Surface Soil, Permeability of Subsoil, and Characteristics of Material Below the Subsoil

Soil association	Major soil series in each soil association	Color of surface soil	Permeability of subsoil*	Characteristics of material below the subsoil
I	Miami	Light	Moderate	Calcareous loam till
II	Saybrook-Lisbon-Drummer	Dark	Moderate	Calcareous loam till
III	Blount	Light	Slow	Calcareous silty clay loam till
IV	Beecher-Ashkum	Moderately light to dark	Slow	Calcareous silty clay loam till
V	Elliott-Ashkum	Dark	Moderately slow	Calcareous silty clay loam till
VI	Symerton-Andres	Dark	Moderate	Calcareous silty clay loam till
VII	Frankfort-Bryce	Moderately light to dark	Very slow	Calcareous silty clay till
VIII	Brenton-Drummer	Dark	Moderate	Predominantly medium-textured outwash
IX	Warsaw-Rodman	Predominantly dark	Moderate to very rapid	Very coarse-textured outwash or till
X	Alvin	Predominantly light	Moderate to moderately rapid	Predominantly sandy outwash
XI	Watseka-Maumee	Predominantly dark	Moderately rapid to very rapid	Sandy outwash
XII	Plainfield	Light	Very rapid	Sandy outwash
XIII	Joliet-Romeo	Dark	Moderate	Limestone bedrock
XIV	Huntsville-Proctor	Predominantly dark	Moderate	Alluvium and outwash

* Permeability refers to the rate of water movement through the soil. Of the terms used, moderate expresses the most desirable condition.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR COMPANY

This book is published as a reference guide to county farmland ownership. The enclosed data was compiled from the Official Public Records at your County Court House and elsewhere. Due to the continual sales and transfers of property, we cannot guarantee 100% accuracy. We do not accept any responsibility for omissions or errors. If you notice any in this, your County Plat Book and Index of Owners, please let our office know so that we may correct our records.

We wish to acknowledge the wholehearted, sincere assistance received from your County Officials and the excellent participation of the businessmen throughout the county. It was their cooperation and support that has made your County Plat Book and Index of Owners possible.

COURTEOUS TREATMENT • PROMPT and EFFICIENT SERVICE

Joint ownership of property means you always save money on taxes. Right?

Wrong!

Joint ownership is not a cure-all. While there are times when it is the best plan, joint ownership has its pitfalls. That's why you and your attorney should come in and talk to one of our experienced trust officers. He just might be able to give you an attractive alternative to joint ownership . . . without obligation, of course.

You and your attorney will find our knowledge of investment management and financial analysis helpful in drawing up a good estate plan for you.

Remember, our ideas could save you and your family thousands of dollars. Call us at 838-0252 and arrange an appointment soon.
